LOCATION AND TRAVEL

Sealarks is a secluded campsite where you have sole use of the site. It is situated at the far east of Seaford in the South Downs National Park.

Buses run regularly to Eastbourne and Brighton from bus stops just a 10 minutes walk from the site. The train station is about a 30 minute walk away with regular services to Lewes where you can change trains to travel along the coast or directly to London.

The site started life as a sand pit and was then taken over by the General Post Office. The GPO built a telephone repeater station to act as a terminal point for cross channel cables going out to Rouen and Paris. Seahaven Division bought the site which was officially opened as Sealarks Campsite on 7th June 1987.
